Badger Robotics Teach Kindergarteners STEM Activities

Submitted by: Valerie Truscinski, Robotics Advisor

Badger School's FIRST Robotics team paired up with the kindergarten class to teach STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math) activities. The intent of the collaboration was to help kindergarten students engage in and be exposed to STEM. The boys and girls were guided through building a marble run, constructing a working gear set, creating 2D and 3D gumdrop shapes, and assembling a Lego construction. The hands on aspect helped students to understand that they can manipulate the parts of the activity themselves. Active learning was constant as all students (both high school and kindergarten) had a great day of learning!

Badger School Superintendent's News

Badger School Celebrates Dr. Seuss's Birthday!

March 2 was Read Across America Day and also the birthday of Dr. Seuss. Badger students and family members celebrated this day on March 1. Students, families, and community members began their day with green eggs and ham at the Badger School. The food was wonderful and enjoyed by all who were able to attend. Throughout the day, to honor Dr. Seuss, National Honor Society (NHS) students read stories to all of our elementary students. Later in the day, NHS students delivered birthday cake to the students in honor of Dr. Seuss. It was a wonderful day at the Badger School, filled with smiles, hugs, and lots of reading! Thanks to the National Honor Society for all of their work and to our staff who helped to make the day special for our students. Thank you also to Jody Randall and Rhena Storo for all of their work preparing the green eggs as well as the birthday cake for Dr. Seuss!

Governor Walz proclaims February 27 as School Bus Driver Appreciation Day

In darkness and daylight, from dirt roads to multilane highways, from the warm spring afternoons to frigid winter mornings, Minnesota school bus drivers safely transport more than 760,000 precious students to and from school each day. School bus drivers are important figures in children's lives, serving as a positive influence for students.

The Badger School District appreciates our school bus drivers and recognizes the invaluable contributions they make to public education and student safety. Luke Nelson serves as our Transportation Director as well a route driver. Assisting our students every day on a full-time basis are Ed Walsh, Deb Meier, and Chuck Wilt. Substitute drivers include Tim Berger, Tom Dann, Jeff Howell, Jeramy Swenson, Curtis Larson, and Eric Dunrud. Thank you for bringing our students to and from school safely!

Working Together

As you know, the Badger School District has many activities and events that provide opportunities for our students to participate, learn, and enjoy. Without support of our staff, students, community, and local industries, many of these activities would not be possible. Thank you for all that you do to support our students and our school. We will continue to work together to provide opportunities for our students and do our best to represent our community proudly and remain the school "where every student belongs." The Badger School District is a wonderful place to learn and work. If you have any questions regarding our school, please stop by anytime. Working together on behalf of our students is the number one priority. Thank you to all who help to make our school special!

As always, if you have any questions or would like to visit in person, please stop by any time.

Sincerely,
Tom Jerome, Superintendent
Badger School District

Student Opinion

By: Hallie Hietala

Should the school day start at a later time?

Tanner Davy: No, because if it started later, it would have to end later. It would also make it later for people in sports because sports would end later too. Finally, you wouldn't be able to do as much after school, such as work, if school went later.

Tessa Blumer: How much later should school start? If school was to start any later, everyone's schedules would be off. Badger school starts later than most schools.

Brooke VonEnde: No, I don't think the school day should start any later. The day or the year would have to go longer to make up for the lost time. By starting at 8:00 a.m., you start the day with a new mindset and aren't distracted by things you have already done that day.

Levi Lego: Yes, because you would be more awake so you would be able to get more work done and pay more attention in your classes. Your grades would improve and your relationship with your friends and teachers would too. So overall, it would be a good choice. School should start at 9:25 a.m. You would be able to get more sleep and have more energy for the day to do the work the teachers give. School should end at 4:10 p.m.

By: Dalton Shirley

What was your favorite childhood toy?

Ray Haugen (7th grade): My favorite toy was a toy Spider-Man. I used to play with it a lot. It was my favorite toy because Spider-Man was my favorite super hero.

Dylan VonEnde (8th grade): My favorite childhood toy was a BB gun. My grandpa got it for me when I was four. That is my favorite childhood toy.

Hannah Wilt (9th grade): My favorite childhood toys were Bratz dolls. My sister and I would cut their hair and would change their outfits all the time. I'm pretty sure we had 30 different Bratz dolls.

Lexi Rud (10th grade): My favorite childhood toy is my electronic Jeep. I would drive around every day. It was fun being able to drive my friends around. I felt like the coolest kid.

Emma Gust (11th grade): My favorite childhood toy was my Doodle Bear. I think I had a pink Doodle Bear, and I remember hating having to wait for it to dry when it was washed. I imagine my parents were happy about this present so I could draw on that instead of the furniture.

Tim Kjelland (12th grade): My favorite toy as a kid was a Ben 10 watch. I would wear it to school and to bed. I liked it so much because when I was little I would watch the show all the time and I started to idolize Ben. He was my hero and his watch was an amazing toy until it broke.

Mr. Johnson (Social Studies Teacher): The line up of my Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles action figures. Michelangelo was a personal favorite. Cowabunga Dude!

FCCLA Shadow Day

Submitted by: Kennedy Truscinski, FCCLA Member

What better way to learn about our government than to have a hands-on experience with it! The objectives of Minnesota FCCLA's Shadow Day are to increase a member's awareness of state government and the political process, see first-hand the elected officials work, develop an awareness of current issues (especially those relating to families), explore career options in public service, and educate local chapters, schools, and communities about the impact of the shadowing experience. This event also relates to four of our national programs: Career Connections, FACTS, Families First, and Power of One. This year was my fourth time attending this wonderful event and it has been amazing every year!

This year we had the opportunity to meet Governor Tim Walz and his wife Gwen. Governor Walz addressed our group of FCCLA members and advisors briefly stressing the value of leadership opportunities. First Lady Walz was an FCCLA State Officer and shared her experiences of being a chapter member, a teacher, and moving into the Governor's mansion. She emphasized the importance of having options – a plan B, in case things don't go as planned. Leading is about being flexible and adapting, and truly demonstrates your true character and abilities.

In order to attend the event, FCCLA members needed to complete the FCCLA State Shadow Day application. Attending from the Badger FCCLA Chapter were Alex Ylitalo, Hailey VonEnde, Kennedy Truscinski, and Emma VonEnde.

Ramp-Up Topics for March

Submitted by: Stacey Warne, Dean of Students

GRADE 6: Students will be experiencing the Personal Readiness Evaluation for Postsecondary inventory for the first time in their Ramp-Up careers. After completion, students will explore their personal results. Sixth graders will also be exposed to the concept of a constantly changing world and that careers of the past might not necessarily exist in the future.

Workshop: Career Cluster & Interest Survey

GRADE 7: Seventh graders will be preparing for a panel of college students to ask questions of what college has been like for them. This has proven valuable for students who may have lots of questions about what it's really like to go to college. Students will also be looking at financial awareness as going to college may require going into some debt. "Good debt" and "bad debt" will be discussed.

Workshop: Guest Speakers on College

GRADE 8: Advisory sessions in March will focus on the costs of college, whether it is a two-year or four-year school, private or public. A good link for parents to investigate is <https://bigfuture.collegeboard.org/compare-colleges> to find out more about colleges and financial aid packages. Different colleges offer different financial aid packages, and sometimes the more expensive college offers the best financial aid package. The "sticker price" is not always the final price. Students will also work on ways to pay for college including savings, work study, scholarships, grants, and loans. There are multiple ways to pay for college without incurring excessive loans, so students should not decide they can't go because of costs.

GRADE 9: During March, students will be introduced to 21st century skills. Special attention will be given to Career and Technical Education class opportunities within our school and in the postsecondary field. Students will also learn about opportunities available to them for earning college credits while still in high school through concurrent enrollment.

GRADE 10: Sophomores will be instructed on the relevant sections of a resume and how to begin building one for their own use. In addition, students will be asked to think about what interests them, so they can consider what career and postsecondary experience would be best for them.

GRADE 11: Juniors will address the factors students should consider when applying to colleges. In one activity, students will understand the purpose of making a college campus visit. Another activity introduces the idea of safe, match, and reach colleges. Juniors will also study the importance of being a lifelong learning and its impact on employability, which is relevant to summer jobs, internships, and their long-term career goals.

GRADE 12: Seniors will prepare for a panel of current college students to find out what the reality of college is like. Students will look at an interesting survey of first year college students that reveals aspects of the college experience that may not have been anticipated and the challenges they face. Seniors will also learn more about study groups and how they can benefit the college experience.

Workshop: College Panel on Postsecondary Experience
